Empower yourself to move forward with your deepest aspirations on your path of knowing, sharing and living NVC to the best of your ability through living in a community of NVC consciousness!

Experience Marshall Rosenberg's core curriculum for Nonviolent Communication from a team of seasoned international CNVC certified trainers and assessors!

Build a community of colleagues from around the world – both CNVC certified trainers and other candidates on the path to CNVC trainer certification – for long-term support and collaboration!

Vision

Join our group of CNVC certified trainers, assessors, certification candidates, and others committed to sharing NVC to deepen your knowing, living and sharing Nonviolent Communication. We will hold daily community meetings when we will join in activities related to the topic of the day taken from Marshall Rosenberg's International Intensive Training (IIT) curriculum. Activities during other times of the day will include small group NVC processes, support with certification activities (e.g., journaling, understanding the Key Differentiations), mentoring and supporting growth around your learning edges, practice and feedback of your NVC offerings, home group meetings, one-on-one meetings with certified trainers and assessors, family mediations, and certification pre-assessments. We have brainstormed to imagine a rich experience that will include activities beyond what may be possible at our in-person retreats. CALF (Candidates/Community Active Learning Forum) originally started as an online offering to create community for those candidates who were not able to attend in-person offerings. We are excited to be returning to our roots in this way, and to be building a community across the world. CALF is led by a seasoned team of CNVC assessors and trainers residing in Switzerland, Canada, Israel and the United States, who speak German, French, Hebrew and English. During our retreat, we will offer training across different time zones, and some opportunities for connection in languages other than English. Attend our online community retreat and live your life in NVC consciousness guided by sharing and feedback from trainers and colleagues who are available throughout a shared 9-day experience.

Dates

April 30th to May 9th with daily community meetings from 9am to 12pm (noon) Pacific/Los Angeles, CA time. We request that you plan to attend the 3-hour community meetings from start to finish, and are actively participating in retreat activities each day throughout the 9-day retreat.

Venue

Zoom Teleconferencing Platform and other community-supporting technologies.

Contribution to Trainers and Organizers

We are requesting a contribution between $750 and $1,500 (USD) as compensation for the training and services provided by the team of trainers and organizers. We understand that we live in uncertain times and that financial resources vary from person to person and from country to country. We welcome you to speak with CALF organizer Mark Friedman (mark@nvccalf.com) if your financial circumstances would otherwise prevent you from participating in CALFING 2020 to explore alternate strategies of compensation so that you can attend our retreat and compensate the team in a way that works for each of us. To reserve your spot at the retreat, we will request a down payment of $500 (USD) by April 10th as part of the application/registration process. At the end of the retreat, you will have an opportunity to hear needs and requests from the team of trainers and organizers, to reflect on your own needs and the value you received from the retreat, and to make a second payment to bring your total contribution within the range we are requesting.

Application and Registration

This CALF retreat is intended for CNVC certification candidates, those exploring certification, and those steeped in a commitment to share (teach) NVC. If you are wanting to attend and are not yet a certification candidate, or are not a candidate of CNVC assessors Sylvia Haskvitz (silgiraffe@aol.com) or Michael Dillo (midillo@gmail.com), we request that you first contact Sylvia or Michael to clarify if we would support your participation. An application/registration form to attend the retreat will be available online at www.nvccalf.com starting the week of March 23rd.

Retreat Language

The retreat will be conducted in English with some opportunities to connect with others in languages other than English. It is important that participants have basic fluency in English.
